

Christmas Eve on the Beach

Extended Code Unit 2 /ee/

Lee lives in Sydney, a city in South-Eastern Australia. On Christmas Eve, Lee and his family went to the beach. It was hot and sunny. The beach was teeming with people. His Mum smothered him in sun-screen and he ran off to swim in the sea with his sister, Evie. Thankfully, Lee had his goggles with him, so he could see the reef, coral and algae below. Mum called Lee and Evie back to the sandy beach for a picnic. They had a feast of cheese, cold meats and salad and they each got a big ice cream. In the evening, the children played a game of tag rugby, as Mum and Dad lay down to sleep and read after the big meal. There was soft breeze as the family watched the sunset. It was the best day and a perfect Christmas Eve. What will you do on Christmas Eve?
